As leasing launches at One Ten in Jersey City, this represents a milestone not just for the six-story building, but for the partnership between BNE Real Estate Group, McKinney Properties, and Hoboken Brownstone Company: One Ten is the third building in their Enclave series, a collection of three buildings that includes One Hundred House and The Enclave. Prices at One Ten start at $1,695/month with grand opening incentives that include up to four months free rent.

The 238 units include exceptionally spacious studios, many of which come with sleeping alcoves. All studio through two-bedroom units feature 9' ceilings, custom modular closets, in-unit washer/dryers, and full height tile baths. The kitchens are outfitted with white quartz countertops, two-tone grey and white cabinetry, and stainless steel appliances. Select units have private balconies or patios.

Residents of One Ten have access to a full suite of exclusive amenities that includes a dog run, Amazon package lockers, concierge service, fitness center, lounge, fitness center with virtual workout programming, co-working lounge with private offices and coffee bar, and landscaped outdoor patio with grills and fire pits. Additionally, residents have access to the offerings of other buildings in the Enclave series, which include a bowling alley, movie theater, and rooftop pool with private cabanas.

One Ten is conveniently located a short distance from local conveniences, non-profit Art House Productions, bilingual preschool Viaquenti Academy, and the incoming Coles Park. Nearby Citi Bike stations offer a convenient way to get around Jersey City and Hoboken, and the building offers complimentary shuttle service to the Hoboken PATH station for an easy commute to Lower and Midtown Manhattan.
